

Important Safety Notice: Gree Dehumidifier Recall

Recall Website: <https://global.gree.com/usa/channels/840.html>

Dear Gree Customer:

In cooperation with the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, Gree Electric Appliances, Inc. of Zhuhai, China has announced a recall for certain models of dehumidifiers. We have learned that you have purchased units of one or more of the dehumidifier models.

Safety Hazard: Gree has received reports of units overheating, smoking, and catching fire. Consumers should immediately stop using the affected units.

REQUIRED ACTION

Consumer Notice: Please provide the notice letter included with this correspondence to consumers that purchased an affected unit. If you need assistance notifying your consumers, send a customer list via Microsoft Excel file to Gree. Gree will then directly notify the consumers that were provided within the Microsoft Excel list.

Product Quarantine: If you have any affected units remaining in your inventory, immediately stop sale, quarantine the dehumidifiers, and contact Gree regarding the proper return of affected units. For additional information for consumers, visit Gree's recall website at <https://global.gree.com/usa/channels/840.html>.

Notification Posters: Please post the enclosed point-of-purchase poster in your store for at least 120 days, at a location that will be conspicuous to consumers who may have purchased the dehumidifiers included in this recall. This recall is being conducted in cooperation with the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, which will also monitor the effectiveness of the recall.

Product Information: This recall involves certain models of 25, 30, 40, 45, 50, 65 and 70-pint dehumidifiers with brand names GE, Kenmore, Norpole, Seabreeze, and SoleusAir that were manufactured between January 2011 and February 2014. The recalled model numbers are listed below.
